Modification of our General Sales and Delivery Conditions

Dear valued customers and sales partners,

As part of our commitment to maintaining a transparent and up-to-date framework for collaboration, we regularly review our General Sales and Delivery Conditions. In this context as a result of our latest review, we implemented the following changes:

- All customers shall impose obligations related to export control measures and sanctions upon all third-party purchasers
- Any use of our products for the manufacture of military equipment is prohibited

The new Sales and Delivery Conditions will be valid with immediate effect. You can view and download them from our webpage under the following link:
